

SCHULICH SCHOOL OF LAW and FACULTY OF MANAGEMENT
DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY
Canada Research Chair Tier 2 in Indigenous Governance

The Faculty of Management and the Schulich School of Law, Dalhousie University, invite applications for a Canada Research Chair in Indigenous Governance (probationary tenure-track, tenure-track or tenured), Tier 2, at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor.

We welcome candidates, both national and international, with scholarly expertise in the broad field of Indigenous Governance. Scholars working in this field may be pursuing research in any number of areas, such as: Indigenous self-determination and intergovernmental relations (at the local, national and/or international level); natural resource management, economic development, and Indigenous environmental justice; innovation, entrepreneurship, and Indigenous governance; energy policy, dispute resolution, and Indigenous legal orders; Indigenous feminism, rights and regulatory frameworks; or social, economic, and cultural security and resurgence.

The CRC program was established by the Canadian Federal Government with the purpose of attracting outstanding researchers to the Canadian university system. Tier 2 Chairs are intended for exceptional emerging scholars (i.e. the candidate must have been an active researcher in their field for fewer than 10 years at the time of nomination). Applicants who are more than 10 years from their highest degree (and where career breaks exist, including maternity leave, extended sick leave, etc.) may have their eligibility for a CRC Tier 2 Tier 2 justification process. Please contact the research grants office and see the CRC website (www.chairs.gc.ca) for more information on eligibility.

Candidates should prop available at <https://www.dal.ca/research/SignatureResearchClusters.html>.

Dalhousie recognizes that career paths can be diverse and that career interruptions may occur. Applicants are encouraged to include, in their cover letter, an explanation of the impact that any career interruptions may have had on their record of research achievement.

Review of applications will begin on July 1, 2019, and continue until the position is filled. To guarantee consideration of your application, please apply by July 1.

About the Schulich School of Law and the Faculty of Management

The Schulich School of Law plays an extraordinary role in the fabric of Canadian legal education. We are a national law school, with our students coming from and returning to every region. We graduate leaders. Our alumni hold every form of government office, teach in Canadian law schools, innovate in the provision of private and public sector legal services and in business, advance policy in the executive branch of government, render decisions on courts across the country, and offer service to non-governmental bodies and non-profit and community organizations. We have always been known for and proud of our commitment to unselfish public service, in the Weldon tradition. We embrace the interdisciplinary opportunity of working in a university, we value the creation and dissemination of new knowledge, and we are firmly committed to students and to teaching and learning excellence. We are conscious of the difference we make to law reform,